MOYER ASSISTING WIFE TO A CARRIAGE.

Mr. Moyer has been quite ill during the famous Haywood trial, the result of which affects the life of her own husband, but during her convalescence she has insisted upon being present.

For Testifying Against Haywood, Miners' Prosecutors PROMISED ORCHARD IMMUNITY

ASSASSIN BREA'KS DOWN AS DEFENCE LAWYERS WRING CONFESSION FROM HIM.

By J. S. DUNNIGAN,
Special Commissioner at the Trial for the Boston American.

POWET, Idaho, June 14.—With Harry Orchard's completed and cross-examination continues before the jury, the prosecution of William D. Haywood are now prepared to introduce evidence to corroborate the testimony, and to establish, if legally possible, the classic conspiracy that the state chief witness has detailed at length.

Former Governor Peabody of Colorado is expected to testify today.

When accused for Haywood had finished his rigorous cross-examination of Orchard, it had been proposed to the jury that Orchard's so-called "confession" was tough with the promise of freedom made him by Detective

Lawyer Richardson. In his relatives questioning, there was a flood of light on the methods of the detective. He brought out as that other record of crime

Richardson drove Orchard into a

McPartland's "Third Degree."

Working on Orchard's emotions in his weakened and terrified state of mind, McPartland drove the first impression home by telling the co-conspirator, in dramatic fashion, the story of redemption by confession.

One other thing of the utmost importance Attorney Richardson accomplished in the cross-examination. This was the proof of an individual motive on the part of Orchard for the killing of Governor Strenuous.

Richardson brought out admissions from Orchard proving that he had had a large interest in the Hercules mine, near Walla, and that he believed that Governor Strenuous had been Orchard in Tears.

Orchard's last day of cross-examination showed him, for the first time, a man full of passion and nerve and emotion. He here he saw on the witness stand when told him that his story was a lie.

ASSASSINATION REVEALS GENERAL SET UP REPUBLIC

Premier Stolypin Demands Exclusion of Social Democrats From Duma, and Arrest of Sixteen of Their Number—Slain Man Official of the Port.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—With the assassination early to-day of Colonel Kotlaroff, deputy commissioner of the port of St. Petersburg, plots were revealed to assassinate the Czar, overthrow the government and establish a republic.

Premier Stolypin has come into information showing the conspiracy to have been one of the boldest set on foot in recent years.

Kotlaroff was assassinated by a workman employed in the admiralty as a result of a death sentence passed upon him by revolutionists because he reduced the force of workmen at the admiralty.

The assassin was captured, but a number of his accomplices escaped.

Premier Stolypin, as a result of today's developments, demanded that the lower House of Parliament exclude from the House all the members of the Social Revolutionary Party, numbering fifty-two, and the arrest of sixteen of their number, including Mr. Anshin, their leader.

Stolypin announced that unless the budget was passed by the Duma, which would be dissolved, the government would be dissolved.

CZAR DECIDES TO DISSOLVE DUMA WITHIN FEW DAYS

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—The next few days will witness the dissolution of the Duma. Before another Parliament is summoned the electoral law will be changed to have the franchise on all educational requirements and to exclude the Jews, the Poles and the Caucasians from the Duma. This is the positive declaration of the program decided upon by the government as revealed to the Publishers' Order from a high governmental source.

Fear that the Duma will reject the budget owing to the dissensions which have arisen between the various parties, principally the Social Revolutionary Party, the Democrats, the Poles and the Caucasians from the Duma. This is the positive declaration of the program decided upon by the government as revealed to the Publishers' Order from a high governmental source.

The proposed change in the election law will be a step towards the dissolution of the Duma. The new qualifications will give it absolute control. Premier Stolypin will remain in his present post.

Large numbers of troops are already being gathered in St. Petersburg and the other large cities to preserve order when the announcement of the dissolution is made.

SOCIETY GIRLS CHEER COUNTRY CLUB RIDERS

PRETTY WOMEN CROWD TRACK TO SPUR RACERS

Boston Leaders, in Latest Creations, Swell Largest Opening Day's Attendance.

That even the weather man, who has been so abundant in the prediction and threats of everyone else during the long spring, could not resist the influence and combined smiles of Boston's hostess society girls and numerous was shown by the weather which he provided for the opening of the twenty-sixth annual race meeting of the Country Club at Brookline yesterday. Basking the chill, rain which had been given for June up until that time, and commencing the wind to veer into the south, he provided the fairest of skies and the rarest of days.

Under such conditions, and with the excellent card provided for the opening week, there was the largest first day's attendance ever seen on the beautiful track of the Country Club. The grandstand was filled and the walls of the stands, from the beginning of the stretch to the judge's stand were crowded, while over five hundred automobiles and carriages were packed in the polo field.

Taking advantage of the first real opportunity for the display of the newest creations of Boston's famous modistes and milliners, Boston society was out to force and throughout the throng were observable particularly handsome gowns and beautiful creations of the milliner's art. Included in the list of notable leaders seen on the grounds were Mrs. John L. Starnes, who motored out with Rev. F. B. Boyer and his wife, Catherine Gardner, in the young clergyman's new machine. Mrs. Gardner was escorted by Mr. Boyer to the grandstand to greet friends. Mrs. Gardner wore black velvet, with transparent tulle and sleeves, long shoes and a hat of violet straw veiled with black.

Duke of Abruzzi Not There.
The expected arrival of the Duke of Abruzzi, who is to be the guest of the Lane Andersons and who it was hoped would be here in time for the race, made the Andersons the center of attraction. The duke, however, had not arrived.

Other prominent leaders noticed were: Mrs. A. Henry Higgins, Mrs. Francis Cunningham, Mrs. Frederick Converse, Mrs. Edward Perry, Mrs. Philip Brock, Mrs. George F. Smith, Mrs. John T. Turner, Mrs. Katherine Brewster, Mrs. William D. Carter, Mrs. George F. Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone, Mrs. Susan M. Warren, Mrs. Margaret Thomas, Mrs. H. H. Norton, Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Mrs. William D. Carter, Mrs. Elizabeth Stone, Mrs. Susan M. Warren, Mrs. Margaret Thomas, Mrs. H. H. Norton, Mrs. Charles Cunningham.

With the booming of salutes from the guns at the Charleston Navy Yard and the roar of harbor craft whistles and the firing of the waterworks, the Duke of Abruzzi, the famous Arctic explorer and leader of the Italian Navy, was greeted in Boston Harbor yesterday. The duke is coming to this city on the Italian cruiser Varese to attend the Brookline Country Club races, and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lane Anderson on Avon street, Brookline.

The duke will spend eight days in Boston, Saturday and Sunday will be spent at the Country Club, and the duke and his wife will be given their dinner at home.

Carl Perry's last trip to the lake had the worst of it. "Inland North" life was reached in the lake and the duke of the lake was the duke of the lake.

FLEES "VANITY BOX" HEARING

By Boston American Leased Wire.
NEW YORK, June 14.—Mrs. William S. Vanderbilt, Jr., is wanted to appear before the grand jury today to tell about the theft of that $100,000 "vanity box" the sister recovered a week ago.

But that she will go is by no means certain, as Mrs. Vanderbilt has been very carefree during the past day or two in eluding detectives who desired to interview her.

Coach Nerva, a waiter formerly employed at Sherry's, is the "vanity" charged with stealing the box, but Mrs. Vanderbilt failed to appear against him when the case came up in Brooklyn court.

BROWNS WHILE FISHING.
BURLINGTON, Vt., June 14.—John Carrier was drowned in the Winooski river while fishing near Ethan Allen Park in a boat. He was unable to swim.

HUMMEL STILL A DANDY EVEN IN PRISON GARB

By Boston American Leased Wire.
NEW YORK, June 14.—Lawyer, also Hummel, best known at present as Prisoner No. 205 in the Blackwell Island penitentiary, is having the costliest hair in his career, since the docks of the prison are charged to open him on May 21.

Investigation by New York American representative reveals the astonishing fact that Hummel, although provided with all the comforts of penitentiary life, is in reality a dandy, and is even putting the wind over the ears of Warden Fulton and Dr. S. L. Hartmann, the resident physician.

There is loud grumbling among the other prisoners over the complete manner in which the little lawyer, sentenced to one year's imprisonment, is conducted in the lodge-house case, is treated by the prison officials.

Hummel takes daily walks on the East side of the penitentiary and is often accompanied by Deputy Warden Murphree, who is said to have been a member of the same political club as the little lawyer.

The most amazing fact of all is that Hummel's prison garb is a marvel of sartorial art, for which he paid the prison tailor a good round sum.

While Hummel is compelled to wear light gray suit with black stripes, just as is every other inmate of the prison, his tailor and his friend's suit in his tiny agent as well as if he had purchased his prison stripes from a fashionable Fifth Avenue artistic tailor.

If Hummel's Fifth Avenue Broad way friends could see him now, they would doubtless exclaim that despite his prison stripes the lawyer is still the dandy of fashion and the model of form. He is not only the word to describe Hummel in his prison made garb, he is the epitome of sartorial perfection.

TECH BREAKERS ARE PROTESTED

Boston union machinists today protest to the Tech authorities against students working in structural machine shops of Providence for "experience." Complaint was made to Boston Lodge 204 by the Providence lodge. The union immediately appointed a committee to confer with the Tech officials.

It is said that some of the students in the shops are in favor of the "experience" as they feel that they are in part "learning" while in the shops. The boys from the Rhode Island School of Design are also being placed in the shops for "experience," it is declared.

Men's Suits Marked Down

A Chance to Save $6.00 to $8.50 on that New Holiday Suit. . . .

We believe you would rather buy these suits now at the height of the season at a saving of $6.00 to $8.50 a suit than at the end of the season—the old-time method. If you haven't yet bought your suit, or can use another, you cannot afford to let this opportunity pass.

Notwithstanding the unusually cool weather this season, we've had a remarkable clothing business. As a result, many of our best selling patterns in men's suits have been sold down to one or more of a kind. We've gone through our stock this week and picked out all of these odds and ends, a matter of a hundred or more neat fancy mixtures, and marked them all down to the two following extremely low prices. They are single breasted sack style, and the majority of them fine worsteds:

- $18 to $22.50 Suits marked down to $15.75
- $25 to $30 Suits marked down to $21.50
- $15.00 Blue Serge Suits at $10

You will find them superior in value to the average $15.00 suits offered elsewhere. Of course, the majority of men wear Serge suits, always correct, always look well. You don't have to pay more than $10.00 here for one of these splendid looking Blue Serge Suits—all wool, fine twill, fast color, made in the three-button sack style, with vest; the coat has long lapels and is hand made; trousers, cut full, with belt straps. A cancelled order by another customer enabled us to buy them at a price which allows us to offer you these $15.00 suits Friday and Saturday at.

- $13.50 to $18.00 Youths' Suits $8.75

By rare good fortune we purchased at our own price, from a leading Rochester house, just the kind of clothing young men want, and can offer a limited number of these suits at about half price. All are smart, snappy models, in the best styles of the season, so well made and tailored that they hold the shape to the last. Splendid values at $8.75 $13.50 to $18.00. Special for Friday and Saturday at....

ORCHARD, COURAGE FAILING, WEEPS ON WITNESS STAND

PROSECUTION'S CHIEF WITNESS QUAILS IN COURT

"You first came to see me?" "No, Mr. McFarland," "You know him—that he was a witness?" "Not until that time." "He was taken to the clerk's office, and saw McFarland there." "Did McFarland talk with you about your life?" "Yes, sir."

"Did he first talk of the Blue?" "Yes, sir." "We did talk later about the Bible." "And McFarland told you about King David, who was a murderer, had repented, and became a man after God's own heart?" "Yes."

"Why Orchard 'Confessed'?" Orchard testified that he talks with McFarland may have induced him to tell his story earlier than he otherwise would have done, but he had made up his mind to do it.

"I didn't want to live any longer in that way," he went on, "and I was tempted to just myself out of the way. I began to think about my past life and the unnatural manner I had been in, and I did not want to live any longer in that way. I did not want to live any longer in that way. I did not want to live any longer in that way."

ORCHARD CONFESSES TO OVER SCORE OF MURDERS

HARRY ORCHARD, the confessed slayer of former Governor Stensberg of Idaho, admits complicity in these crimes:

Killed ex-Governor Frank Stensberg of Idaho with bomb. Destroyed mill and killed two men at Wardner, Idaho, with bomb.

Killed two men in Vincinditor Mine at Cripple Creek, Col., with bomb.

Killed Deputy Sheriff Lyle Gregory, on a Denver street.

Tried to kill Governor Peabody with bomb.

Planned to kill Mine Superintendent Bingham at Bingham, Utah.

Tried to poison Mine Manager Fred Bradley in San Francisco, by putting strychnine in milk. Later injured Bradley with bomb.

Refused to wreck train on Cripple Creek road only because not paid for blowing up of Vincinditor mine.

Dogged Supreme Court Justice Gabbett with shotgun. Driven from the chase by the told.

Tried to kill Judge Gabbett with bomb which killed another man.

Tried to shoot President Hearne of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company.

Went gunning for David H. Moffatt, railroad man, until called off.

Spent a week trying to get shot at Judge Goddard at Denver.

Went gunning for General Sherman Bell for three weeks.

Set fire to saloon at Cripple Creek and divided insurance with owner.

Deserted two women whom he had married.

Hired a man to poison his partner in the burning of saloon.

Held up and took possession of a train.

Blew up Gem mine. Two men killed.

Betrayed alleged chiefs of plot when pay failed.

Tried to kill elevator man in Vincinditor mine before the explosion.

Attacked Masons.

Orchard said he had come been a member of Columbia, Can. Lodge of Masons.

He knew that Peabody, Bell, Goddard and others whose lives he had attempted were high degree Masons. He did not know that Stensberg was, however.

At his confession, Orchard said he felt as if he had a duty to do. He said he would go to the State Prison and live out his life there.

"I did not want to live any longer in that way," he went on, "and I was tempted to just myself out of the way. I began to think about my past life and the unnatural manner I had been in, and I did not want to live any longer in that way. I did not want to live any longer in that way. RHODE ISLAND MECCA OF BUCKETSHOP MEN

Driven Out by Massachusetts Law, They Seek Business There.

Driven out of Massachusetts by the law to whom it was sold, and when and where legitimate business can be done, Rhode Island bucketshop men are seeking a haven in Providence and other Rhode Island cities where no State law interferes with their schemes.

Most of the Boston bucketshops, which cannot exist in the provisions of the new law, recent business yesterday. A few that remained open to close out debts in which they were interested closed their doors.

40 Bucketshops Closed.

After today every broker who wishes to do business in Massachusetts has got to be prepared to furnish upon demand the name of any person for whom he has acted as broker for the actual purchase and sale of any stock and to make a statement, containing the names of the parties, from whom the stock was bought.

NEW YORK, June 14.—A live chicken, which Miss Louise Landale wore as an ornament betrayed the secret of her engagement, and today all the State is talking about the handsome young couple whose slinging marriage to Blaine Elkins, Senator Elkins.

Miss Landale, who has been playing in the musical comedy "New York," is said to be the daughter of a wealthy New York family.

It is also said that a sister of Miss Landale, who is a very beautiful girl, is also engaged to a young man.

NEW YORK, June 14.—More than 12,000 striking longshoremen returned to work today following the announcement broadcast by President Conner that the strikers who were the thirty-trans-Atlantic steamship line is at an end.

Tens of thousands of people who the companies have employed to take the place of the strikers were told that they were to go back to work for the day.

GIANT RAFT IS NOW IN HARBOR

The biggest raft ever brought into Boston harbor was towed in by the tug Under-archer early today. The raft is made up of 2,500 pieces of veneer plating and is 110 feet in length. It came from Portland, Me.

Following lumber rafts is a rare thing on the Atlantic coast save several disastrous attempts were made some years ago. On the 14th, the tug made a common method of transporting lumber.

PORTLAND GAY FOR TRAVELERS

PORTLAND, Me. June 14.—This city is entertaining 100,000 commercial travelers, and every island train brings there to attract the annual convention of the Grand Council of the United Commercial Travelers. Large delegations are here from New England cities. The city is in holiday attire, the streets being decorated. The city has illuminated the streets with colored lights. Travel will be devoted to business and pleasure to pleasure.

ROUTES ARMED HOLD-UP PAIR

PORTLAND, Me. June 14.—Four more hold-ups were reported today. One gang met a tatar, George F. Wallace, a local cook, was commanded to throw up his hands by two men armed with clubs. The other one overboard and routed the other.

PROMISE AND FULFILLMENT!

MY promise to the public of Boston—the policy I defined in my first announcement in the press of this city—I have lived up to faithfully.

1. You have been able to come into my store and select women's tailors for $20, $25 and $30 at a price about one-third as much.

2. I have taken great pains to satisfy, and I firmly believe I have satisfied every man who has entrusted to me his patronage.

Today, in the third week of my great sale of the Glasgow Woollen Mills stock, I want to call your attention to the great opportunity I am giving you to buy clothes cheaply. I have not waited till summer to cut prices, but have sold and am now selling at a time when other tailors still ask a fancy price.

Uncalled-for Suits
from the various stores of the Glasgow Woollen Mills Co. Not ordinary "ready-made" garments, but suits that were made to measure to be sold for $15, $18 and $20. On sale today.
